Brent Toderian, MCIP

Director of City Planning, City of Vancouver, BC, Canada

In 2006, Brent Toderian was appointed the City of Vancouver's Director of City Planning. His broad mandate involves current planning and design, city visioning, and community planning, including Vancouver's new "EcoDensity" Initiative that has been receiving international attention. His mandate is further challenged by Vancouver's continued reputation for progressive city-building within an extremely hot development market while also completing projects for the 2010 Winter Olympics.

Since arriving to Vancouver, Brent has been encouraging candid dialogue toward an evolving Vancouver urbanism, with new opportunities around sustainability, creativity, and architectural risk taking.

Brent came to Vancouver from the City of Calgary, where as Manager of Centre City Planning + Design, he oversaw visioning, development and design in Calgary's Downtown and Beltline communities. Brent also created and was leading Calgary's award-winning Centre City Plan, which took a creative and unusually holistic approach to the future success of Centre City. Brent previously spent 4 years championing a new tone for inner-city and suburban neighbourhood design and integrated communities in Calgary as its Chief Subdivision Planner. For 9 years before that, Brent was an award-winning planning and design consultant in Ontario, working for and with municipalities, community groups and developers from Toronto to Yellowknife.

A passionate advocate for creative city building, urban design and architecture, Brent is a frequent global speaker and writer on these subjects, has taught and lectured at numerous universities, and is a co-founder of the Council for Canadian Urbanism while sitting on numerous other boards and groups related to cities. Called a "sophisticated urbanist" by the Vancouver Sun, and an "urban firecracker" by the Globe and Mail, Brent champions what he calls holistic urbanism in all aspects of his work. His speech will cover a variety of topics such as developing a path to more creative Canadian cities and planning departments in the face of current challenges, as well as the future of Canadian Urbanism and its place in a global discourse on cities. The 18th Annual Dinner

The University of Waterloo Planning Alumni of Toronto has been bringing the planning industry together for the past eighteen years. The Annual Dinner provides an exceptional opportunity to socialize, network and meet other professionals. It has become a "must attend" event for all planning, legal, land development and related professionals in Ontario. Last year's dinner was attended by over 1,000 people. The 18th Annual Dinner promises to be another great success.

The Dinner provides financial support for the Planner-in-Residence Program and Entrance Scholarships for University of Waterloo School of Planning students. The Dinner is held at the Royal York, a well-known and elegant landmark hotel centrally located in downtown Toronto's Financial District. It is convenient to parking, GO Train and TTC service at Union Station.
